RUSHED TO WESTERN WINGCARNAGE CONTINUES WITH ALLIES
MAKING SOME PROGRESS AT MANY POINTS ALONG BIG BATTLE FRONT

8,000,000 Russians in Field and British are Training 1,600,000 for Early Service—Inexhaustable Resources of Russians and British Beginning to be Felt—Iron Hand of John Bull Falls Upon Boer Revolution.

By Associated Press.

Paris, October 29.—The pause in the German attacks on the left wing of the allies, where the Germans have fought furiously in their effort to march on the French ports of Dunkirk and Calais, is considered here to be only momentary.

Reliable reports are to the effect that heavy reinforcements are on their way and that when the German lines are strengthened by forces said to aggregate more than 200,000 men, the fighting will go on with renewed fierceness.

London, October 29.—Telegraphing from Copenhagen, the correspondent of the Times says "It is learned in Berlin that from all parts of the east and west battle fronts soldiers are being rushed to Belgium in response to the order of Emperor William to take Calais at all costs. It is semi-officially announced that the Germans will be able to control the southern part of the North Sea as soon as they possess Calais. All the entrances to Cuxhaven, by land and by sea, have been closed by imperial command and the harbor is crowded with floating batteries, Zeppelins and submarines.

Paris, October 29.—The French official announcement given out in Paris this afternoon says that yesterday the French troops made progress at several points on the line, but particularly around Ypres and to the south of Arras.

Berlin, October 29.—It was officially announced in Berlin today that nothing was known concerning the report that German troops have entered Angola, the Portuguese colony in West Africa. This statement was given out by the Wolff Bureau.

London, October 29.—From the west and from the east, German reverses are reported. Germany acknowledges a check in Russian-Poland, but concerning the great battle in Flanders she preserves her silence. The only official word received by noon today was from the French, who maintain claims to further progress.

Not since the struggle along the North Sea began a fortnight ago has Germany made a statement upon which may be based judgment as to the course of events. The best information available indicates that, notwithstanding their dauntless attacks and heavy sacrifices of life, the Germans are further from the coast than when the battle began.

The one great factor on which the allies build their hopes, apparently is, according to their claims, beginning to tell. It is the almost inexhaustible supply of men that may be drawn from the vast reaches of the British and Russian empires, which are relied upon in time to crush the Germans, as Grant did the South, by overwhelming numerical superiority. In the east this influence, seemingly, is already being felt and to it is ascribed the German reverse in Russian-Poland. The secret of the Russian victory, writes a British correspondent at Petrograd, lies in the vastness of the Russian emperor's army, which he estimates at 8,000,000 men. This enabled the Russians to keep an immense reserve for every army, changing regiments frequently and never leaving the same men on the firing line long enough to become stale. Meanwhile the British, who describe their forces now on the continent as merely an advance guard, are training at home an army of 1,500,000 men, of whom 600,000 are territorials.

Today's French statement, while again optimistic in tone gave little specific information. On the extreme western end of the battle line, where the fighting has been fiercest, there is "nothing new". London ascribes the lull of the last few days to the effect that the opposing armies have been utterly exhausted by incessant fighting by day and night and performance relaxed their efforts. There is no indication, however, that Germany intends to abandon the fight for possession of the North Sea coast. Unofficial reports have it that reinforcements are being poured in from every part of the battle line where they can be spared.

In the opinion of military critics, the outcome of this battle, the severest in fighting of the war, may determine whether it is possible for exposed columns of infantry to stand up against modern instruments of war, such as the machine gun.

To the south and east along the battle line across France, progress is reported by the French to the south of Arras, between the Aisne and the Argonne and in the Forest of Apremont. None of the German attacks, it is said, have been successful.

No further word was received from South Africa, although England's anxiety was relieved by the official statement last night that General Louis Botha, commander-in-chief of the Union of South Africa forces, met promptly and effectively the emergency presented by the new rebellion. He was said to have put to rout the forces under General Christian Beyers. No word has been received, however, concerning the activities of General Christian De Wet, the noted Boer general, who also had taken the field against the forces of the Union government.

By Associated Press.

Amsterdam, October 29.—A dispatch from Sluis asserts that parts of several submarines have been sent from Germany by railway to Zeebrugge, on the Belgian coast, where they will be put together and the boats then sent against the British fleets off Ostend. Strict secrecy, says the correspondent, surrounds the German movements in Belgium.

PRETTY DUCHESS OF
LUXEMBURG SADDENED
BY LOSS OF THRONE.

Grand Duchess of Luxembourg Marie Adelaide has reason to be sad. Her little slice of Europe, 999 square miles all told, has been wrested from her by the Germans for their own use during the war, and her army of 300 is about as useless as it was before the war began. Luxembourg was made neutral by the treaty of 1867, and all the principal European nations agreed to leave it alone. Marie Adelaide is only twenty-two and very pretty.

WASHINGTON WILL BE THE SCENE OF GALA MARDI GRAS

Strange Creatures From All Parts of the Universe Will Congregate in Homage at the Throne of the Jolly King Hal O'ween—Gay Revelers Will be Entertained Under Auspices of Y. M. C. A. and Will Mingle in Gaudy Festal Procession.

Saturday night the gates of Washington C. H. will be thrown open and into the aisles of the city will pour hosts of weird and fantastic creatures, gathering from all points of the universe to celebrate the great feast of Halloween. On that night the city will be dedicated to the strange carnivals of these merry gamblers and among their numbers will be seen beings such as Washington's citizens rarely behold.

Fresh from the bloody battlefields of Europe and the east will come gore stained heroes of many an encounter and with them the ghastly ghouls and silent ghosts of war. From the Orient will come the solemn visaged wise men and the mystic robed magicians of Hindoo together with the hair hermits of the hill fastnesses. From their retreat will emerge all manner of life, including imps, witches, goblins, elves, sprites and fairies of the moon; from the pages of history will step such celebrities as Julius Caesar, Napoleon, George Washington and others, and the books of Mother Goose and Father Grimm will open their covers to unloose for this gala night their ogres and giants and fairy princes and pipers' sons, that they might join in the happy festival.

It is by the grace of the Y. M. C. A. that these myriad creatures are to be entertained in Washington this year and extensive plans have been made to take care of them.

The celebration will start with a parade. In the parade will appear a number of automobile floats and a special invitation is extended to the merchants of the city to take the advantage of representing themselves. A feature will be a detachment of German artillery, regular artillery too, and it will give a special exhibition of warfare in course of the march. These and other features will be complemented with a guard of clowns, demons, jesters, etc., adding their indispensable presence to the lively mardi gras.

Following the march the merry-makers will be further entertained by the Y. M. C. A., but just what the social committee has up its sleeve has not been divulged. It'll be something well worth while though there can be no doubt considering the aptitude shown by this committee in managing the Halloween celebration last year.

Another striking feature of the evening, it is announced, will be a tug of war, possibly two, at Hagler's field. In anticipation of this Cherry Hill school had issued a sweeping challenge to other grade schools of the city and arrangements are afoot for a match between the Juniors and Seniors of the High schools.

Everybody is welcome to join in the big parade.

New York, Oct. 29.—Herman Ridder, the German-American editor, says:

"The reports from South Africa can not be consoling to England. They are illuminating to the rest of the world, however. The vaunted unity of the British empire has been shown to be nothing more than the outgivings of the English press bureau. It has taken the combined efforts of the spellbinders of all England to put even a corporal's guard on the continent. The British empire is rotten with sedition, and with sedition bred of this war. # Wet Townships In Fayette County

IF THE BREWERS' "HOME RULE" AMENDMENT WINS

Map of Fayette County

Home Rule makes wet all townships having no municipalities.

Judge Davis, thirteen years Supreme Court Judge, says:

"It would take away from the people power to prohibit the traffic either by legislation or local option, except municipal corporations or in a township containing municipal corporations."

It nullifies laws against Sunday selling, sale to minors, drunkards and similar laws.

Judge Henry, 7 years Circuit Judge, Cleveland:

"The proposed amendment prohibits statewide prohibition by legislative enactment; specifically destroys county option and nullifies all state laws prohibiting the sale of liquor to drunkards, minors, or other ways now prohibited by law."

The TOWNSHIPS shown in black will be WET after next Tuesday if the Brewers' Home Rule Amendment is not beaten. And remember this: What will happen to the people who live in these townships when they have saloons and no police protection

HERMAN RIDDER OPINES AGAIN

New York, Oct. 29.—Herman Ridder, the German-American editor, says:

"The reports from South Africa can not be consoling to England. They are illuminating to the rest of the world, however. The vaunted unity of the British empire has been shown to be nothing more than the outgivings of the English press bureau. It has taken the combined efforts of the spellbinders of all England to put even a corporal's guard on the continent. The British empire is rotten with sedition, and with sedition bred of this war. Not even John Redmond can longer hold an open meeting in Ireland for the English cause. And that is saying much for John Redmond is dear to the Irish people."

WIRE FLASHES

Baldwin hotel and other structures were destroyed by fire at Hagerstown, Md. Total loss $400,000.

W. O. Stevenson of Leechburg, Pa., and David Nicolas of Hites, Pa., were killed at Pittsburgh when their automobile collided with a streetcar.

George Chapman of Bremen, O., is held on a charge of manslaughter following the death of F. A. Vorys of Rock Center, as the result of an automobile accident.

Alonzo Sharp of Potts Hill, Ross county, O., is in jail at Washington C. H., O., charged with hitting Clarence Brittenham of Fayetteville with a stone. Brittenham may die.

Temporarily deranged, Will M. Stromberg, candy dealer at Galesburg, Ill., blew the heads off his three children with an automatic shotgun, shot off a part of his wife's arm, then fatally shot himself.

GERMAN COMMANDER DEMANDS PROTECTION

Bar Harbor, Me., Oct. 29.—Captain Pollack, commander of the North German Lloyd steamship Kron Prinzessin Cecilie, informed United States Marshal Wilson, when he served the order of Judge Hale of the United States district court of Maine for the removal of that vessel from Bar Harbor to Boston, that he would not move the ship until given in writing the orders to do so by his company, "and," he added, "not until I have written guarantee from your government that my ship and my men will be protected."

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Warden Thomas J. McCormick of Sing Sing prison was suspended by Prison Superintendent John B. Riley pending the investigation by Stephen B. Baldwin, Governor Glynn's special commissioner, of the alleged "unusual and improper favors" shown the banker, David A. Sullivan, at Sing Sing. Announcement of the suspension of Warden McCormick was made by Superintendent Riley while the warden was on the way from Sing Sing to Albany. It was said that the suspension was permanent. George S. Weed was appointed temporary warden of Sing Sing.

TO PREVENT SEIZURE OF AMERICAN VESSELS

Washington, Oct. 29.—Determined to prevent belligerent warships in the Atlantic from obtaining advance information concerning seizable cargoes aboard ships which clear from United States ports, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo issued an order to collectors of customs forbidding them to make public information about outward bound cargoes until thirty days after clearance.

The Doldrums.

"In the doldrums" is a phrase more often employed than understood. It refers to a belt of calms contiguous to the equator and situate between the course of the southeast and northeast trade winds. Long periods with scarcely a stir in the air and a torrid sky above, broken by sudden squalls and violent storms of short duration, make the doldrums a dreaded area for sailing ships.

MUTINY IS QUIETED AFTER BLOODY FIGHT

Vera Cruz, Oct. 29.—A rising of a portion of the garrison at Jalapa was checked, but only after the loss of 180 killed and wounded, according to estimates received by American authorities here. The troops at Jalapa, numbering 1,500, were quartered in two barracks. Those in one entered the streets and began looting and shouting for Villa, and the battle was on.

Better Business In Sight

While there has been a decided slump in mercantile, manufacturing and transportation activities in this country during the few months last passed, during all that time activity in the matter of building construction increased rather than decreased. The increase in the work of constructing new buildings, both public and private, has been marked and right now that particular line of industry is enjoying a decided boom.

As to the cause of the falling off in mercantile, manufacturing and transportation activities, experts differ. And after all is said and done, their statements as to the cause are nothing more or less than a matter of opinion.

The people, especially those out of employment, are not nearly so much interested in the cause as they are in the effect of industrial conditions.

This city is peculiarly favored in that it is not sensitive to industrial depressions. Washington is not a manufacturing city and while some folks grow a little restless sometimes because we have so little manufacturing, yet in periods of industrial depression and business paralysis, no matter what the cause, we are in a manner, compensated for the lack of that prosperity which would come with the establishment of a greater number of manufacturing industries than we can boast of at present, by the fact that we escape the pangs of depression.

The increased demand for labor in the building trades has been a great help to the unemployed and tided them over the dull time. Everywhere business conditions are reported to be brighter with prospects for still more improvement.

The money market is beginning to be easier and securities are once more becoming marketable.

When money begins to circulate freely and securities can be disposed of, there is never any complaint about business depression.

Money—capital—is the most timid and sensitive thing in all the business world. At the least change in conditions—at the first sign of possible trouble, the owners of money rush it to safe keeping and withdraw it from channels of active business.

The prosperity of a nation and a people depends more on the laws providing for money and its circulation than it does on all the other trade affecting laws combined.

The men who control the money of the land, and that includes every one who has real money available, are recovering from the first wild scare which the outbreak of the war in Europe gave them—they are beginning to realize that there is no probability of the conflict involving this nation and they are once more letting loose of their money and permitting it to pass into the channels of trade, with the very natural consequence that business conditions are showing marked signs of improvement.

When people who have money refuse to let it be used by others in the world of business, we have hard times. As soon as the money is released from the strong boxes and exchanged for the property which human brain and brawn can create, prosperity and business revival is certain to follow.

Business affairs are beginning to adjust themselves to the changed conditions in the markets of the world caused by the war in Europe—cotton, owing to Great Britain's attitude, is being once more sent across the sea and the money of the land, which scurried to a safe hiding place only a few months ago, is seeking investment.

That means industrial activity and "good times".

With Home Rule Ireland Will Become Strength Instead of Weakness to British Empire

By JOHN REDMOND, Irish Nationalist Leader

THE democracy of Great Britain has kept faith with Ireland, and it is now a duty and honor for Ireland to keep faith with it.

THE IRISH PEOPLE KNOW AND APPRECIATE THE FACT FULLY THAT AT LAST, AFTER CENTURIES OF MISUNDERSTANDING, THE DEMOCRACY OF GREAT BRITAIN HAS FINALLY AND IRREVOCABLY DECIDED TO TRUST THEM AND GIVE THEM BACK THEIR NATIONAL LIBERTIES. BY OVERWHELMING BRITISH MAJORITIES A CHARTER OF LIBERTY FOR IRELAND HAS THREE TIMES BEEN PASSED BY THE HOUSE OF COMMONS AND HAS NOW BECOME THE LAW OF THE LAND. A NEW ERA HAS OPENED IN THE HISTORY OF THE TWO NATIONS.

During the long discussion on the Irish problem in parliament we promised the British people that a concession of liberty would have the same effect in Ireland as in every other part of the empire, that dissatisfaction would give way to friendship and good will and that IRELAND WOULD BECOME A STRENGTH INSTEAD OF A WEAKNESS TO THE EMPIRE.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Irregular Heartbeats.

A writer on medical subjects says that an irregular beating heart should not cause any anxiety. Give it no thought—especially fear thought. The mental attitude regarding it may make or mar your life. Forget it. The heart is a wonderful little organ and, as a rule, will adjust itself to varying conditions when not interfered with mentally or physically. Therefore, mentally, forget it; physically, watch your diet as regards overeating or the eating of such foods and in such a manner (insufficient mastication) as to cause gases, the action of which is to distend the stomach and crowd the heart. It won't go back on you if you treat it halfway right.

Bismarck on Helgoland.

The exchange of Helgoland for Zanzibar was a transaction which has met since with a good deal of criticism. It must be remembered, however, that Germany had not then developed the naval ambition which has given the little island its great strategic importance, and when the bargain was made it had no stronger critic than Bismarck. To barter Zanzibar for Helgoland, he protested, was "like exchanging a pair of trousers for a button."—London Chronicle.

STRUGGLING FOR ROAD TO CALAIS

Massing Troops on Line Between Dixmude and Nieuport.

London, Oct. 29.—The Times correspondent in northern France telegraphs:

"The Germans are massing troops on the line between Dixmude and Nieuport. They have at this moment about 250,000 men fighting for the road to Calais and probably another 100,000 are on the way to reinforce them immediately. The artillery is particularly strongly represented.

"There was good reason a day or two ago to believe that the enemy, deeming discretion the better part of valor, would have hesitated to weaken the fighting line farther south and were prepared to make a last minute withdrawal from eastern Belgium. In the meantime it would be a mistake to assume the allies have been entirely successful in this battle, though of course every inch of ground won by the Germans has cost them a tremendous toll of life. The great bulk of the fighting is now taking place on the left bank of the Yser. The river is speaking broadly no longer between the allies and the attacking forces."

PREDICTS THE TIDES.

One of Uncle Sam's Machines That Does Wonderful Work.

A machine known as the United States tide predicting machine No. 2 and which is in daily operation in the United States geodetic survey at Washington, makes mathematical calculations which would otherwise require 100 persons to do.

Its work is nothing less than the predicting of the times and heights of high and low tides a year in advance. Its mechanism is of brass and steel, its house a huge mahogany and glass case and its tender one observer, who turns a crank and copies off on paper the reading of several dials and later removes from the machine a roll of paper on which is plotted the tidal curve for the particular spot along the coast the tides of which have been predicted.

Every year the United States issues a book of tide tables, primarily for the use of its navy and, secondly, for the use of all who go down to the sea in ships. This book of tide tables gives the time to the minute and the height of the nearest tenth of a foot of every high and low tide during the year for seventy of the world seaports, and by means of an auxiliary table the same information for 3,000 other places.—Scientific American.

"There was good reason a day or two ago to believe that the enemy, deeming discretion the better part of valor, would have hesitated to weaken the fighting line farther south and were prepared to make a last minute withdrawal from eastern Belgium. In the meantime it would be a mistake to assume the allies have been entirely successful in this battle, though of course every inch of ground won by the Germans has cost them a tremendous toll of life. The great bulk of the fighting is now taking place on the left bank of the Yser. The river is speaking broadly no longer between the allies and the attacking forces."

PREDICTS THE TIDES.

One of Uncle Sam's Machines That Does Wonderful Work.

A machine known as the United States tide predicting machine No. 2 and which is in daily operation in the United States geodetic survey at Washington, makes mathematical calculations which would otherwise require 100 persons to do.

Its work is nothing less than the predicting of the times and heights of high and low tides a year in advance. Its mechanism is of brass and steel, its house a huge mahogany and glass case and its tender one observer, who turns a crank and copies off on paper the reading of several dials and later removes from the machine a roll of paper on which is plotted the tidal curve for the particular spot along the coast the tides of which have been predicted.

Every year the United States issues a book of tide tables, primarily for the use of its navy and, secondly, for the use of all who go down to the sea in ships. This book of tide tables gives the time to the minute and the height of the nearest tenth of a foot of every high and low tide during the year for seventy of the world seaports, and by means of an auxiliary table the same information for 3,000 other places.—Scientific American.

With Home Rule Ireland Will Become Strength Instead of Weakness to British Empire

By JOHN REDMOND, Irish Nationalist Leader

THE democracy of Great Britain has kept faith with Ireland, and it is now a duty and honor for Ireland to keep faith with it.

THE IRISH PEOPLE KNOW AND APPRECIATE THE FACT FULLY THAT AT LAST, AFTER CENTURIES OF MISUNDERSTANDING, THE DEMOCRACY OF GREAT BRITAIN HAS FINALLY AND IRREVOCABLY DECIDED TO TRUST THEM AND GIVE THEM BACK THEIR NATIONAL LIBERTIES. BY OVERWHELMING BRITISH MAJORITIES A CHARTER OF LIBERTY FOR IRELAND HAS THREE TIMES BEEN PASSED BY THE HOUSE OF COMMONS AND HAS NOW BECOME THE LAW OF THE LAND. A NEW ERA HAS OPENED IN THE HISTORY OF THE TWO NATIONS.

During the long discussion on the Irish problem in parliament we promised the British people that a concession of liberty would have the same effect in Ireland as in every other part of the empire, that dissatisfaction would give way to friendship and good will and that IRELAND WOULD BECOME A STRENGTH INSTEAD OF A WEAKNESS TO THE EMPIRE.

ANNUAL INSPECTION WASHINGTON TEMPLE

An occasion of notable lodge pleasure and interest was the annual inspection of Washington Temple No. 38, Pythian Sisters, held at the K. of P. Castle, Wednesday night.

Mrs. Lillian G. Howard, of Lancaster, deputy grand chief of the state of Ohio, and holding next to the highest place in the Grand lodge, state of Ohio, was the inspecting officer and highly eulogistic of the Temple's efficiency.

The full work, including opening and closing, installation, balloting and initiatory ceremonies, was put on in charge of most excellent chief, Mrs. Laura Eyre, past chief. Mrs. Jennie Beck has charge of the initiatory ceremonies; past chief, Mrs. Estelle Blackmer, of the installation and past chief, Miss Emma Wilson, was in charge of the degree staff, which put on a beautiful drill, with a splendid staff of sixteen members and two color bearers.

The fine work of the Temple received a grade of 98 per cent, the highest it has ever received from any inspecting officer.

Seventy-five members of Washington Temple, with several visitors from the Bloomingburg Temple, were in attendance.

The evening's work was followed by an elegant fried chicken supper, with all accessories, served in the banquet hall.

The tables were pictures of fantastic beauty, illumined with pumpkin lanterns and decorated with fall flowers and greenery.

The supper hour concluded with feasting and sociability a thoroughly successful initiation.

The competent supper committee was composed of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gardner, Mrs. Jennie Beck, Mrs. Frank Bendling, Mrs. Corda Huffman.

An extra number of police will be employed Saturday night to guard against damage to property, and all will be instructed to keep a sharp look-out for offenders.

All the other cases at bar were argued and submitted, and in each case the court reserved its decision.—London Democrat.

AUTOMATIC HELMSMAN.

How Scheme For Steering a Ship Without a Man at the Wheel.

An automatic helmsman, which will steer a ship like a man at the wheel on the ship's bridge, is now being seriously proposed. The captain would set it to steer northeast, for instance, and the machine would then keep the vessel headed northeast until it was given further orders. None has yet been built, but a mechanism that will do the work has been fully planned by a marine engineer.

It is made possible because of the success of the gyroscopic compass, now in daily use on several American naval vessels. This compass does not depend at all on the magnetic north pole, but uses the determination of the gyroscope to stay pointed in one direction regardless of the movements of its surroundings.

To make the automatic helmsman a tiny mirror would be placed on the compass card and set to the proper course—to the northeast for instance. A beam of light on this mirror would reflect back between two selenium cells when the ship was exactly on the right course. If the ship turned a little off the course the beam would strike one of the selenium cells, and the cell would detect it sufficiently to start a motor to turning the ship's rudder the proper way. If the beam struck the other cell another motor would pull the helm round in the other direction.

It would seem that the effect would be to steer the ship on a snaky course in a general northeasterly direction. It appears likely that very delicate adjustments would be feasible.

Asbestos doors, which look like ordinary doors of oak or mahogany, are a new kind of fire protection. They are made with a center core of wood or metal, covered thickly with asbestos. An oak or other wood veneer gives a surface finish so that they seem to be solid wood, but in case of fire the small amount of wood in the veneer would not affect their fire resisting ability much more than would a heavy coat of paint on an all metal door.

INJURED MAN STILL LIVING

Clarence Brittenham, the man whose skull was crushed in by a stone said to have been hurled by Alonzo Sharpe, during a drunken row in this city Tuesday evening, is still in a semi-conscious condition, with little or no change for the better or worse, although it is believed that his chance of recovery are slight.

At the end of five days a change for the better or worse is expected, and the chances of it being for the worst are said to be three to one.

When spoken to the man will reply "no," and nothing can induce him to change his answer to questions. It is believed that the brain has been irreparably injured, and that should the man live, he will be an imbecile throughout his life.

Meanwhile Alonzo Sharpe is held in the county jail, awaiting developments before a charge is placed against him. He claims to know nothing whatever about the affair.

A SYMPHONY OF COLOR.

Panama Exposition to Be a Scene of Transcendent Beauty.

There have already been exposition cities, or parts of them, whose streets, buildings, parks, statues and landscape effects, each more or less good in itself, were all planned as contributing parts of a homogeneous whole in design, though indeed, as a matter of fact and history, even this idea has never yet been carried out with unified completeness except in exposition cities, memorably the White City at Chicago in 1893.

But for the greatest of expositions there has been conceived and worked out for the first time a city where not only form, but color will be called up to create symphonic loveliness.

At the Panama exposition every square yard of the stately composition, a mile or more in extent, from the red roofs overhead to the tan shale underfoot and including the rich masses of California flowers and shrubs between, together with the blues of the Golden Gate and the soft browns of the adjacent hills, are all picked up and combined, blended and contrasted. In one dominant key of color to produce not only harmony like an orchestra, but transcendent beauty like a great orchestra.

What the actual effect will be when it is finished and visitors look down upon it as they approach from the heights above or gaze at it from the hills across the bay is quite impossible to describe for the very reason that nothing of the sort was ever done before. The nearest one can come to suggesting its ethereal loveliness is to say that the whole color scheme has been devised and carried out under the direction of Jules Guerin.—Scribner's.

Origin of Humbug.

It is not generally known that the word "humbug," long so much in vogue, is of Scottish origin. There was in olden time a race called Bogue or Bong of that ilk in Berwickshire. A daughter of the family married a son of Hume, of Hume. In process of time, by default of male issue, the Bogue estate devolved on one Geordie Hume, who was called popularly "Hume of the Bogue," or, rather, "Hum o' the Bug."

He was inclined to the marvelous and had a vast inclination to exalt himself, his wife, family, brother and all his ancestors on both sides. His tales, however, did not pass current, and at last, when any one made an extraordinary statement in the Nearns, the hearer would shrug up his shoulders and style it just "a hum o' the bug." This was shortened into humbug, and the word soon spread over the whole kingdom.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

German Attacks Reported to Be Slowly Weakening.

OFFENSIVE MAY BE ABANDONED

Attempts of the Teutons to Break Through the Old Center in the Craonne Region Are Repulsed—News From Other Points in Battle Line Favorable to French—Estimate of Losses in Belgium.

Paris, Oct. 29.—General Joffre's dispatches indicate that the German attack in Flanders and France has passed the crest of power and is slowly weakening. The official reports were more favorable than at any time since the German armies began their new advance fifteen days ago, after the occupation of Ostend.

The allies gained ground in Belgium to the north and east of Ypres, driving a wedge farther northward between the German forces near the coast and forces operating from Ghent and Brussels. The allies are said to have outfought the Germans and advanced in the region of La Bassée, the point for many days of incessant and violent effort by the Germans to cut the allied line in two. The official statement that the onslaught is moderating warrants the conjecture that the Russian victories in Poland, the advances of the French in Lorraine and Alsace and tremendous losses in killed and wounded in

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR POOR BLOOD

Bellefontaine, Ohio.—"My blood was very poor and I was in a weak, nervous, run-down condition. I tried different medicines without benefit and one day my druggist told me about Vinol. In all I took four bottles and certainly got the results I was looking for. It built me up in every way, blood, strength and nerves, and I tell my friends it is the best medicine on earth. Many of them have used it and found it so."

—Mrs. EARL BRUNSON, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

As long as the blood is impoverished, thin and poor you will be weak, pale and tired all the time. Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, supplies iron to the blood, purifies and enriches it, while the cod liver elements contained in Vinol creates strength, and rebuilds wasting tissues. Vinol is not a secret nostrum, simply the medicinal elements of the cod's livers, with the useless nauseating oil eliminated, and tonic iron added. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not make you stronger, feel younger and give you an added interest in life.

Belgium and northern France, are compelling the Germans once more to abandon an offensive campaign.

Their dwindling opportunity in Belgium may have produced the new attempt to break through the allies' line in the old center in the Craonne region, where it is officially reported they made violent attacks and were repulsed. The news from the battle line north, east and southeast of Verdun continues to be favorable to the French.

Accounts of the battle in Belgium along the banks of the Yser agree that history contains scarcely a parallel in fierceness of fighting and enormity of losses on both sides.

From Berlin comes the assertion that the Belgians have lost 10,000 men. English correspondents say that the Germans have so far lost approximately 16,000 in killed and 30,000 in wounded. The losses of the French and British in this zone of operations are surely very heavy, but no estimate of them is available. In the eastern section of France, however, the Germans claim that 40,000 Frenchmen have been killed and wounded in the conflicts around Verdun.

EFFERVESCENT DRINKS.

They Allay Thirst Quickly, but the Effect Is Not Lasting.

The reason why we like effervescent drinks is that the slight stinging or pricking of the palate that follows on drinking liquids charged with carbonic acid gas produces immediately an increased flow of saliva and thus diminishes for the moment the sensation of thirst.

But the relief they bring is only temporary and is followed by a reaction in which the thirst is actually increased. The salivary glands are no more susceptible to perpetual stimulation than any other, and after each period of excitement one of depression supervenes. Young soldiers on route marches quickly come to understand this and to discover that the more water they drink the more thirsty they get and that it is best, therefore, to limit the quantity of liquid swallowed. Moreover, the saliva contains matters of great importance for the digestion of food, particularly of starchy foods, and if it all be washed down the throat into the bowels as soon as it is secreted a great part of its usefulness is lost. It would therefore seem that a less wasteful way, physiologically, of promoting the flow of saliva might be adopted with profit. The consumption of fruit containing subacid juices is about the most excellent way.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Partial Acts and Other Things Alleged Against American State Department Representatives to Mexico—Villa's True Name Said to Be Doroteo Arango—Essence of Communication to Washington.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 29.—A severe arraignment of General Villa and charges of partial acts on the part of state department representatives of the United States to Mexico are contained in a communication to the state department issued by Roberto Pesquecia, General Carranza's personal representative to the United States. The communication was sent through the Constitutional agency at Washington.

Pesquecia states in his communication that Francisco Villa's true name is Doroteo Arango, and that he assumed the name of Francisco Villa "only for reasons known to himself, and history alone will tell what crimes his true name of Doroteo Arango may hide. This fact we should like the state department and the American public to know."

Pesquecia continues: "In June, when the first breach came between this Arango and General Carranza, Arango and his officers and agents committed brutal assaults on the persons of Constitutionalist officers and employees in Ciudad Juarez; looted the national treasury that was located there, and at the very moment that he was openly declaring friendship for the United States he was threatening to invade that nation at El Paso."

The communication states that when, a few months ago, Arango was declaring that the conduct of the United States was justified in the Vera Cruz matter, he was at the same time swearing vengeance upon the American nation. Pesquecia charges that the special interests in the United States are in league with Villa to put him in power in Mexico and enjoy rare concessions in that country. The communication concludes:

"We have every reason to believe that accredited representatives of the American government have sold out to the Villa interests, and in place of carrying forth their Washington commissions are working servilely to serve this same Arango, alias Villa. These men are well known on the border, in El Paso especially, by their partial acts and even acts of rank injustice, that are notorious. I think that if Washington would make a moment's investigation that they would find that their men have in many cases perjured themselves and committed felonies to serve their master, Arango."

HUMAN PERSONALITY.

A Product Not of Brain or Heart, but of the Nervous System.

To Galen is ascribed the belief that the brain was the seat of the rational soul, the heart the location of courage and fear, and the liver that of love. This distribution of the element of personality over the physical body finds its expression in the common speech of today, particularly in relation to the heart, which is widely accepted by the popular mind as the source of the more tender emotions.

It was chiefly through the anatomists and physiologists of the early renaissance that the modern movement, which has tended to limit personality to the nervous system, was seriously begun, a movement which, with the increase of knowledge, has gained support to such an extent that it can now be maintained beyond any reasonable doubt.

Human personality is in no true sense the outcome of the non-nervous organs, such as the digestive or the circulatory organs, but is the direct product of the nervous system. This system, to be sure, is embedded among the other organs of the body, and the environment thus provided influences profoundly its condition and action, but acuteness or dullness of sense, quickness or slowness of action, temperamental traits, such as a gloomy or bright disposition, incapacity, shiftlessness, honesty, thriftiness or sweetness, are all, strictly speaking, functions of the nervous organs.

Although only the higher animals can be said to possess personality in this sense, traces of it occur in the lower forms, and its evolution is indissolubly connected with that of the nervous system.—Professor G. H. Parker in Popular Science Monthly.

King's Counsel.

King's counsel differ from all other English lawyers. King's counsel are appointed by patent from the crown, on application from the lord chancellor, and can act as judges of assize when named in the commission. # ALLIES MAKE BIG GAINS IN BELGIUM

German Attacks Reported to Be Slowly Weakening.

OFFENSIVE MAY BE ABANDONED

Attempts of the Teutons to Break Through the Old Center in the Craonne Region Are Repulsed—News From Other Points in Battle Line Favorable to French—Estimate of Losses in Belgium.

Paris, Oct. 29.—General Joffre's dispatches indicate that the German attack in Flanders and France has passed the crest of power and is slowly weakening. The official reports were more favorable than at any time since the German armies began their new advance fifteen days ago, after the occupation of Ostend.

The allies gained ground in Belgium to the north and east of Ypres, driving a wedge farther northward between the German forces near the coast and forces operating from Ghent and Brussels. The allies are said to have outfought the Germans and advanced in the region of La Bassée, the point for many days of incessant and violent effort by the Germans to cut the allied line in two.

The official statement that the onslaught is moderating warrants the conjecture that the Russian victories in Poland, the advances of the French in Lorraine and Alsace and tremendous losses in killed and wounded in

Belgium and northern France, are compelling the Germans once more to abandon an offensive campaign. Their dwindling opportunity in Belgium may have produced the new attempt to break through the allies' line in the old center in the Craonne region, where it is officially reported they made violent attacks and were repulsed. The news from the battle line north, east and southeast of Verdun continues to be favorable to the French.

Accounts of the battle in Belgium along the banks of the Yser agree that history contains scarcely a parallel in fierceness of fighting and enormity of losses on both sides. From Berlin comes the assertion that the Belgians have lost 10,000 men. English correspondents say that the Germans have so far lost approximately 16,000 in killed and 30,000 in wounded. The losses of the French and British in this zone of operations are surely very heavy, but no estimate of them is available. In the eastern section of France, however, the Germans claim that 40,000 Frenchmen have been killed and wounded in the conflicts around Verdun.

YOUNG ENGLISH PRINCE DIES OF BATTLE WOUNDS

London, Oct. 29.—Prince Maurice of Battenburg, youngest son of Prince Henry of Battenburg and of the Princess Beatrice, the youngest daughter of the late Queen Victoria, is dead as the result of wounds received at the battle front. He was an officer of the King's Royal Rifles.

OFFICIAL REPORTS

Paris, Oct. 29.—An official statement issued here contains the following points: "That night attacks by the Germans near Dixmude, Belgium, have been repulsed; that between Nieuport and Dixmude the German attacks are moderating in intensity, and that between La Bassée and Lens the allies have made slight progress."

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The latest official war bulletin says: "Fighting continues between Nieuport and Dixmude, where the allies have been slightly reinforced. Our attacks have been maintained and we have made considerable progress."

BOERS ARE ROUTED BY BRITISH TROOPS

EFFERVESCENT DRINKS.

They Allay Thirst Quickly, but the Effect Is Not Lasting.

The reason why we like effervescent drinks is that the slight stinging or pricking of the palate that follows on drinking liquids charged with carbonic acid gas produces immediately an increased flow of saliva and thus diminishes for the moment the sensation of thirst.

But the relief they bring is only temporary and is followed by a reaction in which the thirst is actually increased. The salivary glands are no more susceptible to perpetual stimulation than any other, and after each period of excitement one of depression supervenes. Young soldiers on route marches quickly come to understand this and to discover that the more water they drink the more thirsty they get and that it is best, therefore, to limit the quantity of liquid swallowed. Moreover, the saliva contains matters of great importance for the digestion of food, particularly of starchy foods, and if it all be washed down the throat into the bowels as soon as it is secreted a great part of its usefulness is lost.

It would therefore seem that a less wasteful way, physiologically, of promoting the flow of saliva might be adopted with profit. The consumption of fruit containing subacid juices is about the most excellent way.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR POOR BLOOD

Bellefontaine, Ohio.—"My blood was very poor and I was in a weak, nervous, run-down condition. I tried different medicines without benefit and one day my druggist told me about Vinol. In all I took four bottles and certainly got the results I was looking for. It built me up in every way, blood, strength and nerves, and I tell my friends it is the best medicine on earth. Many of them have used it and found it so." —Mrs. EARL BRUNSON, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

As long as the blood is impoverished, thin and poor you will be weak, pale and tired all the time.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, supplies iron to the blood, purifies and enriches it, while the cod liver elements contained in Vinol creates strength, and rebuilds wasting tissues.

Vinol is not a secret nostrum, simply the medicinal elements of the cods' livers, with the useless nauseating oil eliminated, and tonic iron added. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not make you stronger, feel younger and give you an added interest in life.

GERMANS RETIRING

Retreat Before Fresh Russian Troops In Poland.

BERLIN ADMITS THE SETBACK

Russian General Staff Claims Successes In East Prussia, Russian Poland and Galicia—All Attacks on Czar's Lines Reported Repulsed. Teuton Allies Lose a Four-Day Battle Near the Piltza River.

London, Oct. 29.—The German and Austrian troops in Poland, according to an official announcement in Berlin, have been forced to withdraw before fresh Russian forces advancing from Ivangorod, Warsaw and Novogeorgievsk. The official statement continues: "At first the Russians did not follow and the withdrawal of our troops took place without difficulty. The reserve troops will change their formation according to the situation."

The Russian general staff issued the following on operations in Russian Poland, Galicia and East Prussia: "In the battle which has been in progress for four days south of the Piltza river, in forests on the line extending from the Bialogora to Gloczow, Policzna and Janowiec, in Poland, our troops have inflicted upon the Austro-German forces a severe defeat. On the center, after fighting of an extremely desperate character, we succeeded in establishing a firm foothold on the border of a forest in the region of the villages of Adamoff, Severinoff and Marianoff. On the left wing we captured by assault a defensive position established at Policzna, and enveloped a portion of the Austrian troops near Berdeje. On the night of Oct. 27 the enemy's corps fell back in disorder towards the line between Edlinsk, Radom and Ilja.

We captured both cannons and prisoners.

"In Galicia the battle is raging along the whole front of the river San. We have taken an additional 10 officers and 500 men. South of Przemyśl our troops are advancing at certain points.

"In East Prussia the enemy has violently bombarded our positions in the operations in the region of Bakalarjevo. Repeated attacks all have been repulsed. The success which we have won to the south of Piltza, and the result of which was the retreat of the enemy on the main front, is of the very greatest importance."

FALLIERS BELIEVES WAR WILL BE LONG

Paris, Oct. 29.—That the war is only beginning is the opinion expressed by Armand Fallieres, former president of France.

"Months and months," Mr. Fallieres says, "will be required to overcome the military power of the enemy, but this does not produce discouragement in France. Our country has acquired the new virtue of constancy in effort. I am ready to go to the front."

RUSSIAN TROOPS CAPTURE RADON

London, Oct. 29.—The Russian victory in Poland has caused a weakening of the German defensive in East Prussia and of the Austrian defensive in Galicia. Immediately after the invasion of Russian Poland was broken up by Russian victories west of the Vistula, the Germans to the north and the Austrians to the south felt an increasing strain.

A correspondent telegraphing from Warsaw says that Radon, fifty-seven miles south of Warsaw, was captured by the Russians after a hard struggle, and that large bodies of Russian cavalry have occupied Lodoz, seventy-five miles southwest of Warsaw.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Reformatory to Be Enlarged.
Mansfield, O., Oct. 29.—Plans for the enlargement of the Ohio state reformatory are to be prepared by Architects Allen and Hall of the Ohio state board of administration, as a result of their visit to the institution here and a conference with Superintendent James A. Leonard. With the population nearing 1,200 it has been found necessary to plan for another cell block. It will be constructed north of the main cell block.

Eastern Star Elects.
Toledo, Oct. 29.—The grand chapter of Ohio, Order of the Eastern Star, decided to meet in Columbus in 1915 and elected four officers. Officers elected were: Worthy grand matron, Mrs. Cora Griswold of Geneva; grand patron, Thomas Bell of Cincinnati; associate grand matron, Lucy Bold of Canal Dover, and associate grand patron, C. C. Ware of Toledo.

Choked Woman to Death.
Columbus, Oct. 29.—Murder in the first degree was the charge placed against George Meier, twenty-seven, meat dealer, who killed Mrs. Josie Garner, twenty-four, in her home. After choking the woman to death Meier went to an engine house, where he surrendered.

Herrick Sends For Winter Togs.
Cleveland, Oct. 29.—That Ambassador Myron T. Herrick will not return to America soon was indicated when it was learned that he has sent to Cleveland for his winter clothes.

Killed by Automobile.
Cardington, O., Oct. 29.—H. S. Singer, a liveryman and hay dealer, was struck by an automobile driven by E. J. James and died of his injuries.

French Buy Horses.
Springfield, O., Oct. 29.—A carload of horses averaging $125 a head was purchased in this city for the French army.

Useful Wives!
Equal suffrage has not yet penetrated Africa's jungles. A husband will send two of his wives out to plant and care for the cassava farm. Two more will be appointed to look after the rice farm, to plant, attend it, drive off the rice birds and animals, and finally to cut and harvest the crop. Two more will be delegated to the jungle to chop and bring home firewood. Another will be commissioned to carry water for the family. Another will do the cooking. Still another will shine her husband's sword, light his pipe and bring it to him, while he sits in the kitchen and talks any kind of palaver that his men friends care to quibble about. The husband works on the principle of "to every woman her work."—Christian Herald.

Germany on North Sea.
The border of Germany on the North sea, from the easternmost corner of Oldenburg to the northernmost point in Schleswig, measures some 200 miles. The Kaiser Wilhelm (Kiel) canal is sixty-one miles long and cost $40,000,000.

What The Home Rule Amendment Means

The sole purposes of the Home Rule Amendment are to make the municipal corporation and the township the largest units in local option elections, retaining the present municipal, township and residence district local option laws; to repeal the Rose County Option Law; and to pre-empt State-Wide Prohibition except upon a vote of the people. The Amendment has nothing whatever to do with the sales to minors law, the Sunday law, or any other regulatory law.

That no other meaning can be forced into this Amendment is the unanimous conclusion, expressed in the most positive terms by the following eminent lawyers:

USE OF NAME UNAUTHORIZED

New York, Oct. 29.—Notice of the ball to be given at the Biltmore hotel next Monday for the benefit of war sufferers contained the information that the Prince of Wales had signified his intention of being an honorary sponsor and would even send a personal envoy to be present and represent him. When the Prince of Wales learned of the use of his name he became so displeased that he called the British ambassador in Washington to deny his connection therewith.

STREETS OF CHRISTANIA.

The Most Tastefully Designed of Any Capital in Europe. Christiania is probably the most tastefully laid out capital of any state in Europe, Paris itself not excepted. It owes its foundation entirely to King Christian IV. of Denmark, from whom it takes its name, who in or about the year 1623 decided to erect for himself a new capital on the opposite side of the river to Oslo.

The whole of the main streets of the city run at right angles and are extremely wide. Indeed, it would hardly be an exaggeration to call them squares rather than streets. For the most part the architecture is rather heavy in design, but the clear air that comes from the fjords tends to give the whole place a tone of lightness that it would otherwise lack.

The river-Aker contains a wonderful series of waterfalls in the upper courses some little distance from the city, where practically the whole of the necessary power for the ever growing manufacturing quarter of the Norwegian capital is generated. This quarter is rather rigorously restricted to the suburb of Sagene, on the north side of the city, since town planning is something more than a mere name in Norway.

The royal palace, which was built by Christian IV., is a handsome building of rather unattractive architecture.—Manchester Guardian.

Tight Screws.
If screws, gas fittings, the sides of bedsteads or anything else of the kind become tightly fixed and cannot be moved the following method will generally be found to loosen them: Pour a little oil on the tight parts and then hold a lighted candle underneath until it is warm. You will then find that it is easy to separate or unscrew the fixed parts.

WILMINGTON HERE SUNDAY

Washington fans are looking forward in eager anticipation to the ball game here Sunday afternoon between the Wilmington Clintons and the Washington Athletics, and it's a safe bet that seats will be at a premium after 1:30 o'clock on that afternoon.

In three years of playing Washington has secured three victories over Wilmington and Wilmington four over Washington, and Sunday's game will be an important one. Wilmington is expected to bring a good crowd of rooters and these, with the Washington fans out in force, will pack the grounds. The game will start at 2 o'clock.

The Wilmington line-up will be the same that defeated Washington 2 to 1 last Sunday and is as follows: Frey, 3b; Pohlmyer, ss; C. Haley, rf; Grandel, 2b; Fiehlle, c; R. Haley, cf; Taylor, lf; Arthur, 1b; Heironimus, p.

FARMERS BUSY HUSKING CORN

The work of gathering Fayette's big corn crop and placing it in the granary is now under way, and the tillers of the soil are greatly pleased with the quality and quantity of the crop.

Both quality and quantity are exceptionally good, and the elevators are now paying 50 cents for the first offering.

At the present time the corn is not thoroughly cured, and it is necessary to put it through the drying process before it is used.

JOHN COMBS INNOCENT

Owing to continued annoyance suffered by Mr. John Combs, the carriage painter, by the publication of the name, John Combs, in connection with a recent arrest for intoxication, causing many to connect the name of the carriage painter with the incident, it is herewith announced that not only is Mr. Combs guiltless, but developments show that no man by that name was arrested. The name of the man taken into custody turned out to have been John Store, but in giving out the news a city officer inadvertently gave the name of John Combs, instead of John Store, and, consequently, that name was incorrectly used in the mention made in The Herald on Monday last.

We are very glad to make this statement for the benefit of Mr. Combs, because of his name being the same as that used in the mention Monday, and we also take advantage of this opportunity to subscribe to the excellent character of Mr. Combs, who has long been well and favorably known to our citizens.

HORSE INJURED IN SHOCKING MANNER

The horse was taken to a veterinarian, and the wound dressed. It may be necessary to kill the animal.
